

Robin Sermon

Commercial Yachtmaster & Powerboat Sailing, Powerboat & Inland Waterways Instructor

Sailing Experience and Background

I have been sailing for over 50 years, both offshore and inland; in Yachts, Dinghies, Keelboats and Motor Boats. My experience also ranges across cruising, racing and teaching in all of the above.

Offshore Sailing

I have extensive racing and cruising experience in various waters and on a wide range of vessels, from small yachts to Thames Barges, and including multiple seasons of JOG racing, some RORC racing including the Fastnet Race and cruising in various waters (Solent and South Coast, Normandy, Brittany and the Channel Islands, South West, East Coast, North Sea, Western Mediterranean) I am a highly experienced skipper with excellent boat management and crew management abilities. In recent years, I have worked as a freelance instructor for several sailing schools.

Keelboat Sailing

Most of my keelboat experience has been cruising and racing the traditional yachts and keelboats of the Norfolk Broads. As well as being a successful race helm I have introduced many beginners to Broads sailing and have written a guide to navigating through Great Yarmouth in a yacht with no engine.

Dinghy Sailing

I have extensive experience as a successful racer in both team and individual racing and in multiple classes. I team raced for both my school and my university and have been a successful club racer in both 505's and Laser 2's. I have spent a full season as a full-time instructor (in Wayfarers) as well as providing instruction in club settings over many years. I have good experience of support roles, (race officer, safety boat etc.).

Powerboating

I have wide experience in a range of powered vessels both in support of sail-based activities and in their own right. I hold a commercially endorsed Advanced Certificate of Competence and Safety Boat certificate.

Inland Waterways

In addition to extensive experience on the Norfolk and Suffolk Broads, both sail and power I have wide experience on the canal and river network, in both narrow boats and cruisers. (Grand Union Canal, River Thames, Skipton Canal, Oxford Canal, River Nene, Rivers Ure & Ouse & Ripon Canal).

Teaching Experience

In addition to my formal and informal experience as a sailing instructor I have extensive teaching experience across multiple outdoor disciplines, including more than 10 years as a full time multiple activities instructor. (Caving, rock climbing, hill walking and canoeing). As a caving specialist I have taught and assessed leaders and instructors, served as honorary Training Officer to the National Caving Association and been deeply involved in the development of national training and assessment schemes. I also have wide experience of outdoor activities as a means of developing teamwork and management skills, including designing and delivering highly customised events and courses to meet clients' specific objectives.

Professional Background

As somebody who has had two separate successful career paths I bring a wealth of professional and managerial experience. I am qualified to Postgraduate Certificate level (Enterprise Network Management) and have a solid track record in the IT industry, mostly designing and implementing major change projects for large corporations. I have excellent managerial and communication skills and am a highly experienced project manager, as well as being director of a successful IT consultancy.

During my earlier outdoor career, as well as the skills and experience mentioned above, I was a successful team manager and senior instructor as well as making a significant contribution to pre-sales activities.
